FEBRUARY, 2008

Redemptorist Youth and Vocation Ministry finds a new home in Downtown Toronto! Welcome to Redeemer House!

On December 1, 2007, the new Redemptorist Community, "Redeemer House" was established in Toronto, right next to St. Patrick's Church.

Though the offices of RYVM and of Outreach Ministry in Toronto were already in town, it was determined that our initiatives and ministry should find a new home to allow for the opportunity to work together, share in community, and build our ministries in the Toronto area, and to continue to build them across Canada through this new location.

After some minor repairs, and a fresh coat of paint throughout the house, the new community and offices at Redeemer House were born!

Redeemer House is a semi detached house. One side of the building houses the Redemptorist Community which serves as the house of Discernment and Formation for new Candidates for Redemptorist life. This community, founded upon the spirit of St. Alphonsus, and our Charism as Redemptorists is a house of prayer, hospitality, fellowship, and discernment.

Together, as a Redemptorist Community, we live out our mission and charism through the apostolic ministry of Vocation Discernment, Formation, Youth and Young Adult Ministry, and Apostolic Outreach in the City of Toronto. This ministry is coordinated through our work on the other half of the house where the offices of RYVM (Youth/Young Adult Ministry, and Vocation Ministry), as well as the Outreach Ministry are located.

To aid in the ministry that we are engaged in, we have 3 gathering rooms on the main floor which serve for gathered events, planning meetings, retreats, and other programs. Part of the Outreach Ministry, under the direction of Fr. Jon Hansen C.Ss.R. is the ongoing planning of the Out of the Cold Program that takes place on Sunday nights in the St. Patrick's Parish Hall. Fr. Jon is also engaged in a variety of ministries through the Parish, and other programs like Faith Connections for Young Adults, and work with refugees, and new Canadians. Fr. Jon participates in the RYVM Programs as well.

We are quite excited about our new home! As we continue to settle in, we look forward to building our ministries in the area, and throughout the country from this central location. Over the next few months, some of the activities from the new office include:

- High School Retreat Days with our Young Adult Leaders
- Lenten Reflection Outreach through our website
- Redemptorist Come and See Retreats
- Host Live-In discernment opportunities at Redeemer House
- S.E.R.V.E.
- Redemptorist Pilgrimage to the Eucharistic Congress

And much more!

We hope that you look through the newsletter to see the latest and greatest, check out our website for updates! And do plan to visit us in our new home!

We are having an OPEN HOUSE February 15th!

Into the Deep..... Of the Lenten Desert!

I know it's hard to believe, but Lent is here again! As we begin our Lenten Journey with Ash Wednesday, we remember that we are invited on a journey. We are reminded of times of giving up candy, television, deserts. We might remember cheating, failing, and then giving up all together, all in order to start again next Lent.

But Lent doesn't have mean, nor should it mean, this simple giving up "just because" you have to. Our sacrifices made during Lent are meant to bring us towards joy; the "Joy" of freedom and renewal through the power of Christ's Resurrection and our Redemption. But in order to appreciate and enter deeply into the mystery and experience of Resurrection, we must first journey through the 40 days in the desert of Lent.

Author Marilyn Gustin wrote a book for Liguori Publications entitled, "Choosing Joy for Lent". She outlined the need that we have to seek out our transformation through the seeking out joy in life. We are invited to open ourselves to the power of the Holy Spirit through six methods: detachment, surrender, contentment, noninjury, discipline, and contemplation.

Detachment, or as St. Alphonsus said, "Distacco" means a letting go. It is the opposite of attachment. When we cling to things in life beyond their normal significance, then they possess us. Detachment is an invitation to see that we need to focus our attachment elsewhere.

Surrender opens our hearts and our hands to let go of our attachments, but also to be in a position to receive. Receive what? That depends on how open we allow our hearts and hands to be to God's love and grace .

Finding contentment means to find peace and delight everywhere. You notice simple and beautiful things in life when you are not hampered with "things".

Non-injury is the effort to do no harm. Simple as that.

Discipline is the finding of inner strength to achieve a goal. It requires practice and freedom of heart to take on a discipline. We discipline ourselves always toward becoming better in life.

Contemplation is a centering of our whole being on God, and entering the mystery and wonder of God's creation.

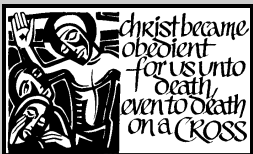

So look for ways this Lent that you might deepen your prayer, your reflection, and your quest to find Joy in the midst of the quiet desert of your heart. Through scripture, meditation, and journaling, find opportunities to allow your openness to be an invitation for God's love and God's joy to find a home in you, so that you may know richly, the joy of the resurrection in your life.

Happy Lent!

Practical Ideas to help you enter into this holy season:

1. Create a simple prayer space: purple cloth, candle, cross, sand, stones, nails.
2. Use a nail as a meditation piece during the season of Lent, then use it as part of your prayer on Good Friday.
3. Incorporate a reflection on the Way of the Cross into your prayer time. Perhaps attend a parish Way of the Cross service.
4. Save your extra pocket change during the season, and then donate it to Development and Peace, or Share Lent.
5. Spend time in prayer each day with the daily readings for Mass.
6. Celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation.
7. Attend all the celebrations of the Easter Triduum.

Top 10 Reasons why YOU should attend a Redemptorist Come and See Retreat!

10. It's free.
9. It's a weekend away from the hustle and bustle of life.
8. Because my grandmother says I should be a priest or brother, and now I want to find out for myself.
7. Three square meals! (At least on the Saturday!!)
6. Chance to meet other men who are wondering about their future.
5. There are opportunities for prayer, discussion, and reflection.
4. You get to meet the Redemptorists and find out what we are all about.
3. It's a chance to travel to an exotic location like Saskatoon, St. John's, Vancouver, and Toronto!
2. You believe that the Good News of Jesus Christ is indeed 'Good News', and needs to be proclaimed through evangelization, mission, and living community.
1. You are compassionate, and believe that Jesus the Redeemer has something to say to all people.

But don't just take my word for it, 'Come and See' for yourself!

Upcoming Retreat dates are listed in the box to the right. Go to our Website for more information about Discernment and the Retreats itself. Even participate in a "Virtual Online Discernment Retreat" at your own pace!

What's happening at St. Teresa's Church in St. John's, NL?

During the season of Advent in particular, as well as all year long, the prophet Isaiah is constantly inviting us to dream and imagine the glorious future that is before all of us. The righteous branch which we hear about in Advent, a branch which springs forth from the stump of Jesse, (Isa. 11) is filled with promise and hope for today and into the future.

That wonderful gift of hope continues to grow. The hope grows in several places, specifically through the constant and consistent gathering of the Liguori Circle Community at St. Teresa's and the constant excitement surrounding Youth Ministry here in St. John's.

St. John's Newfoundland was the first diocese in which the Redemptorist Youth Mission Team¹ (RYMT) worked. This archdiocese is still gifted by the occasion even after several years have passed and pages of the calendar have turned. When the RYMT worked in the St. John's Archdioceses, five particular parishes, in addition to the entire region, received a positive shot in the arm toward an active and vibrant comprehensive youth ministry. RYMT encouraged youth, young adults and adults alike to grow in faith and share gifts and talents with each other. Sharing and growing continues through the constant planning for future event like Think Fast and other faith sharing events.

In 2007, a Think Fast² weekend was held at St. Teresa's parish with youth from several different groups and parishes participating. Planning for the 2008 Think Fast is well under way and enthusiasm and excitement is building. This year's Think Fast weekend is planned for St. Kevin's Parish in the Goulds.

The Liguori Circle³ Community gathers once a month and laughs together, prays together and learns about saints and church history together. This is a small group, varying from 6-15 regular participants. Our last gathering, in January, highlighted one of our Redemptorist saints, St. John Neumann. We invite all young adults, 18-30 years of age to join us for these lively, monthly faith sharing gatherings.

God Bless,
Fr. Steve Morrissey, C.Ss.R.
St. Teresa's Parish, St. John's, Newfoundland

Footnotes:

1. The Redemptorist Youth Mission Team was developed to spend time within a diocese working with a group of parishes to train individuals in the establishment of a comprehensive approach to youth ministry. St. John's was one of the first (arch) dioceses to utilize this program. The team is no longer in operation.
2. Think Fast is a 24 hour fasting program for youth/young adults, developed by "The Development and Peace" to promote an understanding of global/local issues of justice in our world as well as act as a fund-raiser to assist in this organizations justice efforts.
3. Liguori Circle is a Redemptorist and Young Adult gathering that invites people to gather to explore and share their faith through presentations, discussions and prayer.

Redemptorist High School Retreat Team in Toronto

In February 2008, the Redemptorist High School Retreat Team in Toronto will begin hosting school groups from local school boards at St. Patrick's Church in downtown Toronto. The Theme for the retreats this year is, "Christ Be

Our Light: We are called to Act with Justice!"

The Retreat Day will consist of Prayer, Icebreakers, Introductory Video "Upstream" - produced by Development and Peace, Discussion, Interactive Project on Charity and Justice, Poverty Lunch!, Neighbourhood Prayer Walk downtown, and finally debriefing and brainstorming a Justice Action Plan for their Class or School.

Now that the RYVM Team and the Toronto Outreach Coordinator are working out of Redeemer House (beside St. Patrick's Church,) it is a wonderful opportunity to reflect on the local situation of our brothers and sisters who are in need, and who come each week to the Parish Out of the Cold Program on Sunday night.

Pat, Fr. Santo and Fr. Jon are joined by a Team of Young Adult Leaders who will be instrumental in programming and support of the Retreat Day.

In all, we expect to welcome about 500 students over the course of the next few months!

For more information about the program, or how you might become involved, contact Pat Csinos or Fr. Santo at the RYVM Office!

Blessings to our newly elected Provincial Council!

S.E.R.V.E. is 20 years old in 2008!

In celebration of this milestone we have gathered all the S.E.R.V.E. banners that were crafted by the participants themselves (starting in 1993) and created a very attractive, eye-catching poster (11"X 17"). Yours for the asking! These posters are available through Liguori Circles, your local Redemptorist Priest or email us your mailing address at ryvm@redemptorists.ca .

Comprehensive Youth Ministry - An Inside Look!

Dean Schmidt is currently living in Saskatoon Saskatchewan, working for St. Thomas More College at the University of Saskatoon as a recruitment officer. Dean is involved in Liguori Circle at St. Mary's in Saskatoon, has attended the Redemptorist European Youth Congress in Limerick, Ireland, and is the acting Chair of the Western Canadian Association of Catholic Youth Ministers (WCACYM).

I received the request for this article at the beginning of the month and to tell you the truth I was reluctant at first to write. Writing is definitely outside my comfort zone, but alas, the request for the article came from a person in my life that has been encouraging me to step outside that comfort zone almost ever since we met. So here we go, let's see how I do.

The request placed before me was to "write an article about Comprehensive Youth Ministry" (it actually includes a lot more description than just that). My first thought was "what do I know about Comprehensive Youth Ministry?" But as it turns out, thanks to some reassurance from that person I mentioned above, I do know enough give you, the reader, at least the basics. In fact, I even know of some great resources on the subject on my own bookshelf at home. How did those books get on my shelves you ask? Well...

In 2004 as a person about to complete a university degree, I was looking for what the next step was going to be in my life, I asked my campus minister what he thought I should do. He responded with "well what do you want to do?" I told him I wanted his job, meaning I wanted to work in Youth Ministry or something like that. I had been working with youth for years, but always in a secular setting. I asked him if there was any training he knew of that could help me become more knowledgeable about Youth Ministry. He told me of a certificate program he had taken, that he thought would be perfect for what I was looking for: the "Certificate in Youth Ministry Studies."

In was during the first of day of my first course in the certificate program that I was introduced to the idea/concept/approach of Comprehensive Youth Ministry. It turns that for over 30 years people have been working on this stuff and have done in my humble opinion I pretty fine job.

The comprehensive approach finds it foundation in a document, which sits on my bookshelf, from the US Conference of Catholic Bishops call Renewing the Vision – A Framework for Catholic Youth Ministry, which was published in 1997. According to that document the comprehensive approach has 3 main goals:

1. To empower young people to live as disciples of Jesus Christ in our world today.(p.9)
2. To draw young people to responsible participation in the life, mission, and work of the Catholic faith community.(p.11)
3. To foster the total personal and spiritual growth of each young person. (p.15)

To achieve these 3 equally important and vital goals it requires the use of all the resources that a church community has to offer – people, programs, and ministries. The comprehensive approach is a framework that can be adapted and integrated rather than a specific model that must be followed exactly. With these 3 goals at its centre and the knowledge that it takes the whole Church Community to do Youth Ministry, I soon realized Youth Ministry was far more than just "youth group".

I learned that comprehensive youth ministry needs to happen in all aspect of the lives of youth. It not only happens in the obvious setting of things like youth groups but also ministering to them as part of a family unit, integrating them to all aspects parish activities, and also involving and connecting them to the wider community. It's about building a youth friendly culture within all aspects of the church and wider community.

For me it has meant thinking in a new way, when it comes to youth involvement in any activity/program/board/etc. that I am involved with. When thinking about who needs to be involved, instead of thinking we need to make sure to include youth, I try my best to think whose skills/talents/perspective from community (which obviously includes youth) will best represent and serve the community. Making the youth an essential component to every aspect.

The Certificate program consists of eight 2 day courses, each linked to a component of the comprehensive approach - Principles and Practices, Foundations and Skills for Youth Ministry, Evangelization and Catechesis, Prayer and Worship, Pastoral Care, and Justice and Service. The training not only provides you with valuable knowledge and resources (like the books on my shelf), but also connects you with other people passionate about youth and about ministry to them. The Certificate has been adapted in Canada, with Canadian examples and content, and there are several locations and opportunities across this great country of ours to get trained.

If you wanted the specifics on that document from the US Bishop's here are the particulars: NCCB, Renewing the Vision – A Framework for Catholic Youth Ministry. Washington D.C.: Office of Publishing, 1997.

And finally to the person, mentioned above, who keeps challenging me to step outside that comfort zone, keep up the good work and Thank you.

Myron Rogal (St. Mary's, Saskatoon), Fr. Leo, Fr. Santo, Pat Csinos, Andrea Godziuk (St. Joe's, Grande Prairie) and Fr. David. They participated in the National Conference of Catholic Youth Ministers held last month in Banff, AB.

Youth Ministry at St. Joseph's.....

The youth at St. Joseph Parish are crazy in love with Jesus! I think that best describes them...or maybe they are crazy about their youth minister...!!! Youth Ministry has exploded this year. It has been unreal every time we meet to just watch the continuous flow of youth entering the room. 15...20...35...40...one Friday night we had over 70 youth show up! How awesome is that?!?!? 70 youth hanging at the church on a Friday night! Youth Ministry at St. Joe's is pretty simple. Every event is open to all youth in grades 7-12. Under the Son meets every Monday night. Typically this is our faith formation night, topics ranging from relationships, gossip, stress, prayer; we even had a whole evening dedicated to Facebook (and how to share our faith on it...just to clarify). Once a month, we have a social night. Our favorite social night so far was Sculpt it! Making Bologna snowflakes using your teeth, sculpting a T-Rex out of others chewed bubble gum...make sure to have gloves handy, and the best, sculpting out of SPAM...mmm good! TGIF (Thank God it's Friday) happens once a month. These Fridays are a social evening usually with another youth group in the city. JAM (Jesus At Midnight) happens one Friday a month also. We sing Praise and Worship and pray from 8pm-midnight. And to round it up, every 3rd Wednesday of the month is Movie Night. We also have a youth retreat twice a year and participate in an interdenominational youth rally, Disturbing the Peace. Throw in a few ski trips, and that is pretty much St. Joe's Youth Ministry in a nutshell. I feel blessed to be in this ministry and am looking forward to see what God has in store for 2008.

Liguori Circle at the Parish Rectory.....

Every third Tuesday of each month is when the young adults of St. Joseph Parish go crazy....at Liguori Circle. On average there are about 15 young adults who gather, to discuss, pray and laugh together. To kick off our year we broke off into teams and participated in a picture scavenger hunt. Clues where given of activities to do around town and teams had to take pictures of themselves doing them. The best picture taken is of Fr. David on all fours pretending to pee on a fire hydrant. I am proud to call him my pastor! At Christmas we celebrated together at a potluck and remember Fr. Claude, who brought so much joy and laughter to our group, by drinking wine that he made before he passed away in early December. He will be missed by Liguori Circle. In January we were blessed to have Fr. Santo present to us an inspiring reflection on the Eucharist. How we need to be small "e" eucharist to others everyday. As a group we have decided that we would like to volunteer in the community more. So far we have helped the hospital decorate trees at Christmas and prepared and served a meal at a drop in centre. We look forward to helping our community more in the new year.

Article 4: A Community of Persons

36. The community must further the personal growth of its members, develop interpersonal relations and build up genuine brotherhood. This will demand that persons, with their values and qualities, be highly esteemed. Moreover, opportunities must be given the members to make their own personal decisions, in order to promote real development of maturity and responsibility.
